GreenerEU 2050 is a German social start-up founded by Isabella Mavellia. The start-up is focused on sustainability, culture and tourism in Europe. The work of GreenerEU 20150 is based on the UN Sustainable Development Goals, the European Green Deal and the Faro Convention. The start-up organises events and projects like the Virtual Sagra, cultural routes and micro-itineraries, and online language courses. In the collaboration with Bringing European Together Association (BETA) - Italia, GreenerEU 2050 is creating several roundtables on Sustainability and the Future of Europe. For more information on GreenerEU, please check their website:

Bringing Europeans Together Association (BETA) Italia is the Italian branch of the young, pan-European association Bringing Europeans Together Association (BETA Europe). The main and well-known project of BETA Europe and its branches is the Model European Union (MEU), a simulation of the ordinary and legislative process of the European Union. The project is based on the concept of learning by doing and counts a lot of supporters around Europe. BETA Italia in particular not only has its own MEU, but also runs other projects and collaborations (2Date2Debate, BETA in School, Editorial Board, Workshops). Right now, the Italian branch is collaborating with the German start-up GreenerEU 2050 on a slot of roundtables about Sustainability and the Future of Europe.

The New European Bauhaus is a revitalization of the old German Bauhaus from the 1920s. The project was known for its combination of art and design with function and inclusivity. The Bauhaus focused on the democratization of architecture and providing a basic standard of living for everyone. The New Bauhaus is inspired by these values and wants to create an empowering and inclusive approach to sustainable and inclusive European cities. In this roundtable, we create a ‘virtual expo’ to give participants the opportunity to exchange ideas for inclusive cities and sustainable architecture solutions. We want to discover what ‘sustainable cities’ mean to MEPs, experts, and citizens, and how these ideas can be unified in future Europe. We will organize a constructive debate, where we look for possible solutions, foster ideas and create connections. After the roundtable, all participants will receive an overview of the discussed topics and the proposed ideas.

Stephan is a former German Schuman Trainee at the European Parliament and researcher in international adult education at the University of Bamberg. He also collaborates with GreenerEU 2050 and is member of BETA - Italia. His interests cover particularly lifelong learning and a common European Education area.

Isabella Mavellia

GreenerEU 2050

Isabella holds a B.Sc. in International Business Administration and Management (Touro College Berlin) and a M.Sc. in Comparative International Relations (Ca' Foscari University of Venice and the Venice International University). She specialized in the UN's Sustainable Development Goals and specifically in the development of sustainable tourism with special interest in the implementation of targets in the City of Venice, as well as European project management and international and cross-cultural relations such as intercultural communication. She founded the social start-up GreenerEU 2050 in December 2020 with the goal to use tourism as a vehicle for positive ecological, economic and socio-cultural impact.

G U E S T

Jutta Paulus
MEP Greens/EFA

Jutta Paulus is a Member of the European Parliament for the Greens/EFA since 2019. She is a member of the committees on Environment, Public Health and Food Safety (ENVI), Industry, Research and Energy (ITRE), and Transport (TRAN).

Paulus started her career as a pharmacist, co-founded an independent laboratory for the examination of chemical hazards, and worked in quality management. From 2017 to 2019, she was the regional co-president of the Rhineland-Palatinate Greens. Jutta Paulus dedicated her political work to climate, energy and environmental challenges. She aims to achieve that the European Union takes effective action against climate change and that human beings, animals and nature are protected from destruction, pollution and poisoning.

GUEST

Ciaran Cuffe
MEP Greens/EFA

Ciaran Cuffe is the Green Party MEP representing Dublin after being elected in May 2019. He has been working for a liveable Dublin since the march to save Viking Dublin at Wood Quay. Prior to becoming an MEP, Cuffe was a Dublin City Councillor for the North Inner City and chaired Dublin City Council's Transport Committee. Additionally, he served as Minister of State with responsibility for climate change, planning and sustainable transport.

Mr. Cuffe also set up a Master's Program in Urban Regeneration and Development at the Technical University of Dublin and he chaired the Green Campus Committee. He holds degrees in architecture and urban planning from the University College Dublin, and he recently completed an MSc degree in Cities at the London School of Economics.

Mr. Cuffe campaigned for many years for a vibrant city as a Dubliner, Councillor, and Minister for Planning. He proposed plans for a car-free College Green, and a Liffey cycleway and he introduced 30 km/h speed limits on residential streets in Dublin City.

GUEST

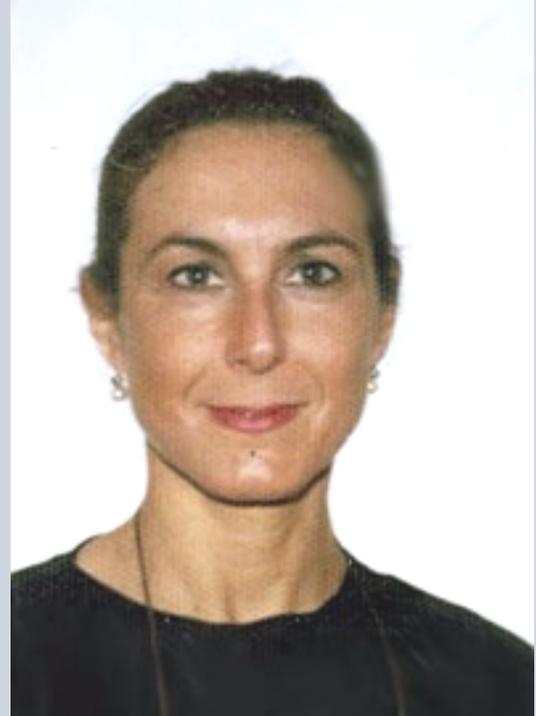

Niklas Nienass
MEP Greens/EFA

Niklas Nienass, born 1992 in Marl/Germany, is Member of the European Parliament for The Greens/EFA. He grew up in Aachen, only a few kilometres away from the Belgium and Dutch border. Since 2013, he lives in Rostock, Mecklenburg-Western Pomerania – the north-eastern seaside state that shares an island with Poland. In 2020 he finished his master studies in Good Governance with a thesis on international space law.

The focus of his political work lies on strengthening European cohesion through regional development and cultural policy. Further priorities are the topics youth and space. Niklas is committed to thinking climate protection and social justice together, to provide better legal protection and social security for artists and creatives and to develop the European Union into a federal state.

In addition to his work in the Committees for Regional Development (REGI), Culture and Education (CULT) and Constitutional Affairs (AFCO), he has initiated several extra-parliamentary projects. He is co-founder of the Cultural Creators Friendship Group, the RUMRA & Smart Village Intergroup and the Youth Interest Group.
